Employee Engagement isn't great. Absence is high, performance is dipping and there's a general feeling of low morale

There's a lack of team spirit. People are doing their jobs but there's no looking out for each other or celebrating each others' successes. It just feels a bit flat.

Engagement is ok but it could be better. The things you have been doing are wearing off and it's time for some fresh ideas.

"We'd never considered educating people on what engagement actually is before. It was a great leveller."
